Product description

Another fabulous chess pieces that came directly from India. The beautifully carved knight piece attracts attention at once. The precision of details of this set corresponds to far more expensive pieces. What makes this model really inimitable is the presence of reins and a bit within the knight's head. White pieces are made of acacia while the black ones are made of boxwood. The set is very well balanced and when it comes to its finesse and beauty can easily compete with way more expensive models. Two additional queens are included.
